

Financially Distressed Companies and Bankruptcy: Benefits of Early Intervention

PAST DUE

During this complimentary breakfast program, Financially Distressed Companies and Bankruptcy: Benefits of Early Intervention, attorneys Howard B. Kleinberg and Edward J. LoBello will discuss with an audience of accountants and CPAs how a proactive use of Chapter 11 can enhance the prospect that your client's financially troubled business will survive and re-emerge in these distressed economic times. Clients who bury their heads in the sand risk losing the benefits of a strategic Chapter 11 filing forever!

Topics will include:

- Signs that a company may benefit from a Chapter 11
- The importance of advance planning for a successful Chapter 11
- Specific ways in which Chapter 11 can be used to save the business, including:
 - "breathing spell" provided by the automatic stay
 - power to reject burdensome contracts and leases
 - exclusive, but time-limited right to propose a plan
 - ability to have disputes against the business adjudicated in a potentially favorable forum

Speakers:

Edward J. LoBello is a Member of Meyer Suozzi where he practices in the firm's Bankruptcy & Business Reorganization, Corporate Finance and Litigation & Dispute Resolution groups located in Garden City and in New York City. Ed concentrates his practice on business restructuring, bankruptcy reorganizations, work-outs, corporate finance, creditors' rights and related litigation. He has represented clients with major roles in some of the largest Chapter 11 cases, including Chrysler, GM, Lehman Brothers and Delta Airlines, as well as in numerous middle market and small business cases.

Howard B. Kleinberg is a Member of Meyer Suozzi and of the firm's Bankruptcy & Business Reorganization and Commercial Litigation practices. He previously served as Chair of the Bankruptcy & Business Reorganization practice from 2003 to 2012. Howard concentrates his practice on bankruptcy, bankruptcy litigation, corporate reorganization and out-of court workouts, and commercial litigation.

Attendees will earn 1 hour of CPE credit in the area of Specialized Knowledge. Meyer, Suozzi, English & Klein P.C.
