Michael P. Reynolds is an Associate at Meyer, Suozzi, English & Klein, P.C. and is part of the Tax Certiorari and Condemnation practice group located in Garden City, Long Island, N.Y. Mr. Reynolds' practice includes tax certiorari, institutional compliance/risk management and private investigations. In addition to his experience as a tax certiorari attorney, he has extensive experience as a civil trial attorney and investigator, as well as a municipal attorney responsible for internal compliance matters, including State I.G. Investigations.

Notable experience includes:

- Deputy County Attorney liaison responsible for compliance with State Inspector General's investigation into the Nassau County Police Department's Forensic Evidence Bureau.
- Uncovered indisputable evidence of insurance fraud which prompted immediate and unconditional cessation of litigation.
- Earned unprecedented criminal court victory following investigation of fire code violations. Worked closely with fire inspection teams to reverse previous poor conviction record attributable to lack of inter-departmental cooperation.
- Served as co-coordinator for the Nassau County Attorney's accredited in-house CLE program.

Prior to joining Meyer Suozzi, Mr. Reynolds served as a Deputy County Attorney for the Tax Certiorari & Condemnation Bureau at the Nassau County Attorney's Office. Mr. Reynolds began his career as an Assistant District Attorney in the Nassau County District Attorney's Office. Later, he became a staff attorney with Liberty Mutual Insurance Company and was an associate at several Long Island based law firms.
